

ECC Gridiron Hopes Bright For Season

Big Chief Norm Verry opened the Camino reservation and selected 75 candidates for Warriors membership at the annual powwow Sept. 1, with the main topic of discussion being the declaration of war on rival grid units.

Tribal leaders welcomed the prospective Warriors into the fold and announced a schedule of two practice sessions daily until ECC tackles the annual inter-tribe scrimmage Sept. 19 at Warriorville. Dave Long, mainstay of the Camino offensive attack last season, leads the list of 11 remaining lettermen.

Joining Long in the backfield will be a veteran line-up composed of returnees Ron Goodrich, Glen Kezar and Gene Williams.

Only Coach Doug Essick has struggled through the search for starting talent at end with the benefit of an experienced man at this position.

RON JURK, line tutor, greeted a host of fast, light and hard-hitting candidates for the forward wall posts. Under the tribe system of belly-series and quick openers, it takes a lighter and quicker man to produce effective holes.

Billy Reames, Bob Van Caler, Bob Winters, George Halck, Bill Montgomery and Brizzolara are the returnees in the beef positions.

Reames, tabbed as a top teacher last fall, suffered a broken ankle in the first game of the year, and failed to return for further action. This year Warriors coaches expect games to fill the shoes of ECC's lone All-Metro player, tackle Wayne Atkins.

JIM WALLACE, first line center in '58, went on a vacation to Texas this summer, and isn't returned. His status on the squad is still a mystery to Coach Verry.

However, rookie stars at various positions have given mentors reason to skip over the loss of Wallace and a few other key men, such as the Stout, former stellar Mira Qta linemen who moved to Sta Monica, and Rudy Carvall, Leuzinger scabback now anding Cal.

WITHOUT getting a look at the candidates in scrimmage, Coach Verry thinks Ed Jauregui, guard from North High, Bishop, Inglewood, center, and Sam Hard, Sentinel interior block buster, can bolster the Tribe up front.

San Diego State contributed a solution to Verry's center problem when Mike Garrula, Serra grad, transferred from the border college to the reservation. Garrula, a tough customer as gridders go, is a rugged individual who spoils for the body thumping a lineman has to dish out.

ECC'S QUARTERBACK position shapes up into a Long, long, long story. Besides having Long, sparkplug of last year's passing barrage, "new blood" at the slot is promising.

RON VERES, Torrance High signal caller, possesses the footwork and think ability to develop into a first rate QB, however Coach Ken Swearingin thinks the young passer will have to work on his aerials to smooth out a high arching lob into more of a bullet-style pass.

RETURNING after a three-year absence from the Camino scene, Jimmer Lindsay, letterman on the Tribe squad, hopes to challenge for the generalship position along with Long and Veres.

With men like Lindsay and Long coming back, Coach Verry offered the idea that the Camino backfield will be an experienced crew right from the beginning this fall and could prove to be the club's strong factor.

ON THE other hand, the eight-year veteran cautioned that the Indians can be no better than the talent they develop on the line, where the lack of experience is apparent. Even though the forward wall is bolstered by a crew of lettermen, it must be remembered that these men saw extremely limited action and none played first string.

Taking everything into account, Verry ventured that this year's grid machine will be an improvement over the '58 squad, the degree to be determined by the rookie talent.

TROUT LIMITS

Hottest trout fishing spot in Southern California this past week has been Lake Arrowhead where still fishing with fluorescent salmon eggs has been producing lots of limits and near limits of rainbows, reports the Department of Fish and Game. Emerald Bay and Tunnel Bay have produced particularly good fishing.

'Keggas, JFF In SCMAF Finals

Meeting on the Torrance softball diamond at 8:45 this evening, the Tappa Keggas and the Just For Fun nine will battle for the Southern California Municipal Athletic Federation slo-pitch title.

The two Torrance teams competed in the Red slo-pitch league during the regular season. The Keggas finished on top of the loop while the JFF ran a close second.

Advancing to the finals by virtue of an 11-6 win by the JFF over the Torrance Optimist nine, the JFF will try their luck at the Tappa Keggas, who set down the Long Beach Naval Shipyard Shop 11-26 nine, 18-2.

This marks the first time in the two-year history of the tourney that both finalists have played in the same city league.

After losing the Lions championship trophy, in the "Slo-Pitch" league following a hard-fought extra inning game in which they bowed to the Torrance Lions, 3 to 2, the North Torrance Lions are turning their athletic prowess to bowling.

Sporting a 176 average, the NTL team has high hopes of winning a trophy to replace the one lost by the slo-pitch team.

Police Seek Five Youths In Escapade

Five youths suspected of stealing a car in Redondo Beach and abandoning it here after at least one of them exposed himself to a Torrance woman were being sought this week by Torrance detectives and juvenile officers.

Mrs. Madge Butts, of 3920 Pacific Coast Hwy., told police the youths stopped her auto north of Torrance Blvd. on Henrietta St. with the stolen car and construction barricades in the roadway.

She said several of the youths tried to enter her car, but failed because she had all the doors locked and the windows up.
